

Group Tax Manager

- Highly Acquisitive $1.6b Turnover ASX Listed Group
- Advisory and Compliance Focus
- Significant Six Figure Salary Package

A true Australian success story that has experienced sustained double digit organic growth, our client has an enviable culture of entrepreneurship and integrity that is rare to discover. The organisation has a strong focus on delivering superior returns through a combination of organic growth and significant acquisitions.

Reporting to the Group Financial Controller the role is mandated to be the senior in-house tax advisor for the group. You will also be accountable for building a best practice tax compliance function.

Technically and commercially strong you will be operating at a senior level in a large corporate, chartered or legal firm. Significant experience in the creation or significant improvement of a corporate tax function is essential. Ideally you will have exposure to tax planning, corporate development advice, international tax, transfer pricing and compliance around direct and indirect tax. You will also be comfortable with accounting concepts in theory and practice.

You are seeking an honest, candid and outcome focused culture and an opportunity to contribute significantly to the group's continued growth and success domestically and globally.

For a strictly confidential discussion, please contact our retained consultant, Ian Hackett on + 613 9935 5274 or submit your resume to ihackett@deanling.com.au quoting reference number IH14.

DEAN & LING
executive search